Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Wednesday 04 Aug 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Showers easing to give a clear night before rain returns.

This Evening and Tonight:
Scattered showers will fade through the evening to leave a dry night for many. Cloud cover and some possible fog patches will lead to some milder conditions than last night. Winds turning blustery overnight particularly for coastal locations. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Thursday:
Heavy outbreaks of rain will reach the region by morning pushing eastward across the region, accompanied by blustery winds, particularly in coastal locations. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Persistent showers continuing through Friday and Saturday, locally heavy or torrential with some thundery outbreaks and hail possible. Winds becoming blustery and feeling cooler. Showers becoming more scattered on Sunday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.